HISTORY AT FIRST HAND

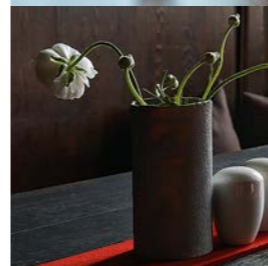

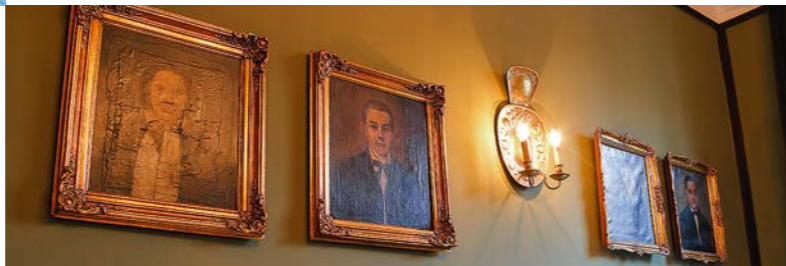

Tracking down the vestiges of the past — Baroque murals and ceiling frescos, historic plank floors, and Landgravine Anna's original piano bear testimony to the "Ritter's" deep roots in the past. — The cornerstone for a successful tradition in Fulda's gastronomy was laid as early as 1718, when the Veldung family settled here. Where cars park today, 40 horses used to be at the ready to take the guests off on cozy excursions.

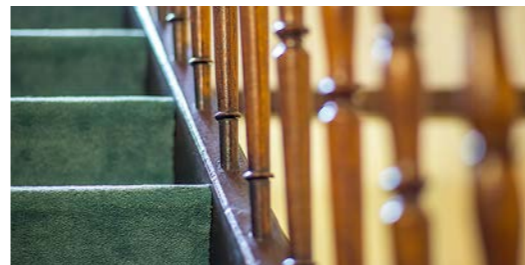

Hearty hospitality with charm
— Hotel and Restaurant “Zum Ritter” in the historic Neo-Renaissance style is closely associated with both the history of the city and Fulda’s lifestyle. In 1926, the artist and church painter Hugo Pfister created the colorful frescos in the newly constructed Hall of the Knights. The painting entitled “Agriculture” and “Viticulture” have been restored several times since then, so that today, the jocund figures are still able to gaze down at the guests.

for an active recreation program. In the immediate vicinity, a number of beautifully situated golf courses and special offers for ambitious beginners and advanced golfers can be found. The splendid landscape
